MENLO PARK, Calif., April 01, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Sight Sciences, Inc. (Nasdaq: SGHT) (Sight Sciences, or the Company), an eyecare company focused on developing and commercializing innovative, interventional technologies intended to transform care and improve patients' lives, today announced that data on two of its proprietary glaucoma and dry eye technologies, the OMNI® Surgical System and the TearCare® System, will be presented at this year's ASCRS Annual Meeting held in Washington, DC.

"We look forward to highlighting new clinical data on our interventional technologies at the 2026 ASCRS meeting, the largest annual meeting for anterior segment surgeons," said Paul Badawi, CEO and co-founder of Sight Sciences. "The data reinforce the durability and versatility of OMNI by demonstrating significant reductions in long-term diurnal IOP fluctuations regardless of lens status, while new TearCare results underscore the strength of our technology and showcase its clinical benefit to demonstrate early and sustained superiority of TearCare over Restasis in achieving a clinically relevant change in tear film stability.
